

BODYPOINT® PRODUCT GUIDE

BODYPOINT: DESIGNED FOR FUNCTION AND BUILT TO LAST!

Bodypoint recently launched its new push-button buckle and rear pull Stayflex™ harnesses. The new push-button buckle offers a sleek design coupled with comfort, performance and durability. The rear pull Stayflex harnesses are an excellent option when the buckle and pull need to be away from the user and are great for those thicker back supports.

Bodypoint has also rationalised its alpha-numeric codes to describe their products where the code tells you something about the product. BES Rehab Ltd has gone further and has decided to use the products' bar codes as the order codes. We have done this for two reasons: a) because we want to get rid of the errors created when using an alpha numeric system (eg. a "B" can be mistaken for an "8" or an "S" can be mistaken for a "5"), and b) because soon it will be obligatory to use bar code tracking of products around the NHS. Thus using bar codes as the new coding system, will future-proof the range of products.

To help our customers as much as possible with the transition, we have created a poster (and a chart on pp 40-42) to help convert old to new codes, and a small pocket guide(see p 42) which can be used to look up the latest codes. This catalogue also gives illustrated guidance how to select and use products, along with their benefits. It not only gives detailed product knowledge, but also offers the widest range of products to choose from.

The BES Rehab Team.
